

Latest Blog: Consumer Duty - Getting the 'products & services' outcome right

In this third blog in our series on the new Consumer Duty (CD), the focus is on what will be the scope of work required to get a firm's response to the 'Products and Services' outcome in line with the higher standards demanded by the new rules. To read the full blog click here.

If you would like to sign up to receive notifications of these future events and publications direct from the Regulatory Talk Team here at Worksmart, then please click here to follow the link and submit your details.

What you might have missed....

Worksmart winners at The Compliance Register Platinum Awards 2022!

These annual Awards were first held in 2004, and now in its 19th year they continue to recognise the exemplary service to compliance and regulation in the financial services industry. We are extremely proud to have been nominated for this award by our clients and to be recognised alongside so many amazing companies within the RegTech and Compliance industry...

Read More

FCA: Consumer Duty, October Implementation plans

With the end of October deadline, a mere few days away, here a reminder from the FCA about what these plans will mean. "The October deadline reflects that firms will need clear plans in order to implement the Duty properly and on time. We do not expect firms to have necessarily fully scoped all work required to embed the Duty by the October deadline, but we do expect firms to ...

Read More

Stay informed on the subjects, challenges and solutions that matter to you
Click here to join more than 10,000 other subscribers and keep up to date with our latest news, products and publications.